Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Notice to Applicant

1. This communication is in response to the amendment filed 28 April 2005. Claims 1-6 have been amended. Claims 1-6 remain pending.

Specification

2. The objection to the specification to 35 U.S.C. 132 because it introduces new matter into the disclosure is hereby withdrawn due to the amendment filed 28 April 2005.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The rejection of claims 1-6 under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, for introducing new matter is hereby withdrawn due to the amendment filed 28 April 2005.
4. The rejection of claim 1 under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, for being indefinite is hereby withdrawn due to the amendment filed 28 April 2005.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3626

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-2, 5-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hunt (U.S. Patent 5,781,892), and Garback (U.S. Patent 5,237,499) and further in view of Rangan (U.S. Patent 6,412, 073) for substantially the same reasons given in the previous Office Action (paper number 12292004), and further in view of Vance et al., (U.S. Patent 6, 442,526). Further reasons appear hereinbelow.

(A) Claim 1 has been amended to recite

- "net server and an issuing terminal interconnected to said net server via a local area network, said issuing terminal," in the preamble;
- "net server," in lines 11, 14, 18, 30, 34, and 38;
- "home page addresses," in lines 12-13, 17, 19, and 22;
- "the booking data of the predetermined format including the booking number," in line 35;
- "storing a received booking data in said net server, and sending said booking number included in the received booking data to said issuing terminal from said net server," in lines 40-42; and
- "receiving, in said issuing terminal, ticket issuing data from the selected external reservation system to issue," in lines 47-49.

Art Unit: 3626

As per newly amended claim 1, Hunt, Garback and Rangan teach a method of an intranet ticket booking and issuing system as analyzed and discussed in the previous Office Action (paper number 12292004) including a net server and an issuing terminal interconnected to said net server via a local area network (Hunt: Figure 1, Items 12, 14 and 22, Figure 2, column 2, lines 11-29, column 3 lines 32-61, column 4 lines 16-28) and comprising sending "terminal addresses" (reads on "home page addresses") from "gateway process 50" (reads on "said net server" to said personal computer (Hunt: column 4 line 67 to col. 5 line 2; column 7 lines 5-56);

storing in said personal computer the home page addresses sent from said net server into a memory and displaying information corresponding to the home page addresses relating to said external reservation systems on a screen for selection by the user (Hunt: Figure 2, column 4 lines 16-37, column 6, line 40 to column 7, line 56), (Rangan; Figure 2, Figure 3, column 2, lines 10-20);

reading out the home page address of the selected external reservation system from memory (Rangan; Figure 2, Figure 3, Abstract, column 2, lines 10-20, column 4, lines 52-60, column 5, lines 35-44);

completing a booking through the website, without the aid of said net server via the Internet (Rangan; Figure 2, column 1, lines 51-60, column 2, lines 10-20, column 4, lines 52-60);

sending the booking data to said net server, the booking data of the predetermined format including the "confirmation number" (reads on "booking number") (Garback; Figure 1, Figure 4, column 3, lines 5-10, column 5, line 56 to column 6, line 10, column 7, lines 26-30);

Although Hunt teaches “FIG. 2 illustrates a general purpose computer... that can be used for client computers ... or server computers ...” and “[d]ata ... used by computer .. may be stored in memory ..., tape drive ..., optical storage ..., and/or disk drive ... ,” (Hunt; column 4, lines 15-19) Hunt, Garback and Rangan fail to explicitly disclose storing a received booking data in said net server, and sending said booking number included in the received booking data to said issuing terminal from said net server; and receiving, in said issuing terminal, ticket issuing data from the selected external reservation system to issue the ticket.

However, the above features are well-known in the art, as evidenced by Vance.

In particular, Vance teaches storing a received booking data in said net server, and sending “pre-trip booking data” (reads on “said booking number included in the received booking data”) to said issuing terminal from said net server (Vance; Figure 1, Figure 14U, column 4, lines 1-37); and receiving, in said issuing terminal, ticket issuing data from the selected external reservation system to issue the ticket (Vance; Figure 1, Figure 14U, column 4, lines 1-37).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the method of Hunt, Garback and Rangan to include storing a received booking data in said net server, and sending said booking number included in the received booking data to said issuing terminal from said net server; and receiving, in said issuing terminal, ticket issuing data from the selected external reservation system to issue the ticket, as taught by Vance, with the motivations of providing a corporate travel planning and management system which operates on a corporate database environment that allows automated travel planning from a corporate traveler's desktop, pre-travel decision support to inform a corporation of planned travel expenditures before corporate dollars are spent (Vance; column 2, lines 36-42).

The remainder of claim 1 is rejected for the same reasons given in the prior Office Action (paper number 12292004, section 10, pages 5-11), and incorporated herein.

The motivations for combining the respective teachings of Hunt, Garback and Rangan are as given in the rejection of claim 1 in the previous Office Action (paper number 12292004), and incorporated herein.

(B) As per newly amended claim 2, the amended limitations in claim 2 differ from the amended limitations in claim 1 in that, claim 1 contains a method recited as a series of function steps whereas claim 2 contains features recited in a "means-plus-function" format. As the amended method of claim 1 has been shown to be obvious in view of the combined teachings of Hunt, Garback, Rangan and Vance, it is readily apparent that the "means" to accomplish those method steps is obvious in view of the listed citations of the prior art. As such, the amended limitations recited in claim 2 are rejected for the same reasons given above for amended claim 1, and incorporated herein.

The motivations for combining the respective teachings of Hunt, Garback, Rangan and Vance are as given in the rejection of claim 1 above and in the previous Office Action (paper number 12292004) and incorporated herein.

(C) The amendments to claims 5-6 appear to have been made merely to correct minor typographical or grammatical errors. While these changes render the language of the claims smoother and more consistent, they otherwise affect neither the scope and breadth of the claims as originally presented nor the manner in which the claims were interpreted by the Examiner when applying prior art within the previous Office Action.

As such, the recited claimed features are rejected for the same reasons given in the prior Office Action (paper number 12292004, section 10, page 12), and incorporated herein.

7. Claims 3-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hunt (U.S. Patent 5,781,892), and Garback (5,237,499) Rangan (6,412, 073) and Vance et al., (U.S. Patent 6, 442,526), as applied to claims 1 and 2 above, and further in view of Tagawa (5,732, 398).

(A) The amendments to claims 3-4 appear to have been made merely to correct minor typographical or grammatical errors. While these changes render the language of the claims smoother and more consistent, they otherwise affect neither the scope and breadth of the claims as originally presented nor the manner in which the claims were interpreted by the Examiner when applying prior art within the previous Office Action.

As such, the recited claimed features are rejected for the same reasons given in the prior Office Action (paper number 12292004, section 11, pages 11-14), and incorporated herein.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed 28 April 2005 have been fully considered but they are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Art Unit: 3626

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to Applicant's disclosure. The cited but not applied references Sehr, United States Patent Number 6, 609, 658, Yanai, United States Patent Application Publication 2003/0154169A1, Hosomi, et al., United States Patent Number 6, 091, 823, and Lakritz., United States Patent 6, 526, 426 teach the environment of online travel reservation systems.

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

11. Any response to this final action should be mailed to:
